

Filtronic plc (“the Company”) collects and processes (via its Registrars, currently, Link Market Services Limited (herein “Link”)) personal data relating to shareholders and other Data Subjects (as defined in Schedule 1 to this notice) to manage the shareholder relationship in compliance with the Companies Act 2006, as amended from time to time, its regulatory obligations as a company whose shares are traded on the AIM market of the London Stock Exchange.

The Company is committed to being transparent about how it collects data, uses that data and meets its data protection obligations.

What information does the Company collect?

The Company, primarily via its Registrars, collects and processes the following categories of personal data:

Full name, email address, registered address, telephone number, full date of birth, nationality, bank account details, national insurance number, passport number and overseas identification card numbers, shareholdings, communication method preference, and any data that is mirrored from the CREST system. Where this is provided to Link, copies of documents such as death certificates and grants of probate.

In relation to the Link online portal: mother’s maiden name, user names combined with passwords, cookies and online identifiers, security questions plus answers.

In relation to due diligence and anti-money laundering checks: scanned or photocopied images of passports, driving licences and utility bills.

Regulatory requirements: In addition to some of the above categories, details of the countries where tax resident.

All of the above is called the Shareholder Personal Data (“SPD”).

Why does the Company process personal data?

The Company needs to process/have processed the Shareholder Personal Data to comply with its legal obligations for example, under the provisions of the Companies Act 2006, as amended from time to time, its regulatory obligations as a company whose shares are traded on the AIM market of the London Stock Exchange and other legislation and regulations for example money laundering legislation and the UK Takeover Code and where it is in the Company’s legitimate business interests.

The SPD is processed by our Registrars as a necessary part of shareholder registration services, including:

- i. Registrar Management of the shares of the Company;
- ii. Registration of share transactions;
- iii. Processing of administrative changes to shareholder records;
- iv. Payment of dividends and interest payments;

- xiv. Provision by the Registrars of on-line services to the Company and shareholders;
- xv. Share Portal or Branded Activity.

Further details about this processing activity is set out in Schedule 2.

Who has access to data?

In accordance with the Companies Act 2006, including in particular section 793 and related sections of that Act, anyone has the right to request and receive a record of all shareholders of the Company including a list of all sub-custodian level investors or beneficial shareholders in accordance with applicable laws. In some cases, these records must be available for public inspections. Additionally, shareholder personal data may be shared internally with members of the Board of the Company, its nominated adviser, legal advisers, auditors, its registrars.

How does the Company protect data?

The Company takes the security of your data seriously. The Company has internal policies and controls in place to try to ensure that your data is not lost, accidentally destroyed, misused or disclosed other than for the purposes described above.

Additionally, as our Registrars are the principal processors of Shareholder Personal Data, the Company will be entering into a specific addendum to our share registration services agreement with Link covering its processing activities and its security arrangements (including its technical and organisational measures).

Where the Company engages third parties to process personal data on its behalf, they do so on the basis of written instructions, and are under a duty of confidentiality. They are obliged to implement appropriate technical and organisational measures to ensure the security of this data.

For how long does the Company keep data?

The periods for which your data is held after the end of shareholder are [12 years]

Your rights

As a data subject, you have a number of rights. You can:

- access and obtain a copy of your data on request;
- require the Company to change incorrect or incomplete data;
- require the Company to delete or stop processing your data, for example where the data is no longer necessary for the purposes of processing;
- object to the processing of your data where the Company is relying on its legitimate interests as the legal ground for processing; and
- ask the Company to stop processing data for a period if data is inaccurate or there is a dispute about whether or not your interests override the Company's legitimate grounds for processing data.

If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please e-mail: datasubjectaccessrequests@filtronic.com

If you believe that the Company has not complied with your data protection rights, you can complain to the Information Commissioner.
